

ORCID-University Bibliography-Connection: Step-by-Step

To automatically transfer publication data from the University Bibliography to your ORCID profile, you can create a connection yourself.

1	Log in to the University Bibliography webpage with your URZ login.
2	Navigate to your user profile via "My Profile".
3	Select „Click to Register or Connect your ORCID ID!“.

4

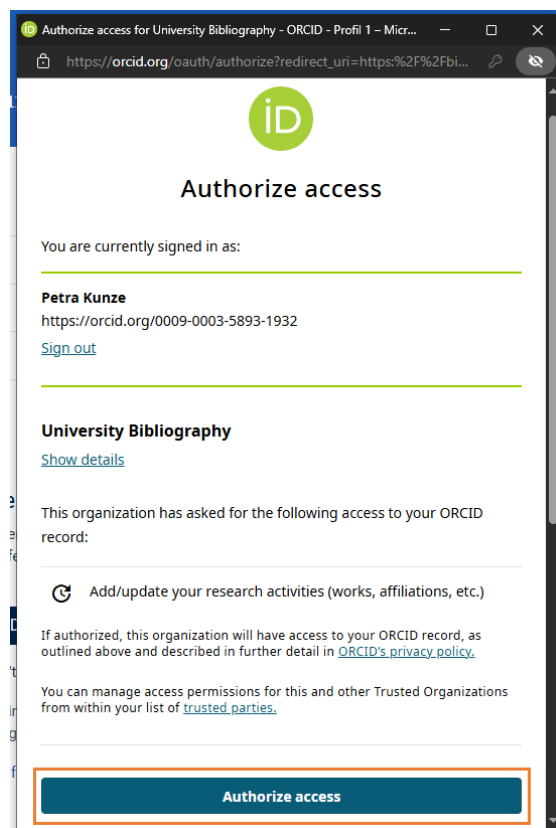

Sign in or register via the ORCID pop-up window.

The screenshot shows the ORCID sign-in page in a Microsoft Edge browser. The page title is "Sign in - ORCID - Profil 1 - Microsoft Edge". The URL is "https://orcid.org/signin?redirect_uri=https%2F%2Fbibliographi...". The page features the ORCID logo at the top, followed by the heading "Sign in to ORCID". Below this, there is a link "Don't have your ORCID ID yet? Register now". The main form has two sections: "Email or ORCID ID" with a text input field containing "0009-0003-5893-1932" and a note "For example: joe@institution.edu or 0000-1234-5678-9101", and "Password" with a masked text input field. A "Sign in to ORCID" button is below the password field. There is also a link "Forgot your password or ORCID ID?". Below the main form, there is an "OR" separator and a "Sign in through your institution" button with a small icon.

„Authorize access“ for the University Bibliography as a „Trusted Party“.

The screenshot shows the ORCID authorize access page in a Microsoft Edge browser. The page title is "Authorize access for University Bibliography - ORCID - Profil 1 - Micr...". The URL is "https://orcid.org/oauth/authorize?redirect_uri=https%2F%2Fbibliographi...". The page features the ORCID logo at the top, followed by the heading "Authorize access". Below this, there is a section "You are currently signed in as:" with a green underline. Under this section, the name "Petra Kunze" is displayed, followed by the ORCID ID "https://orcid.org/0009-0003-5893-1932" and a "Sign out" link. Below this, there is a section "University Bibliography" with a "Show details" link. The main content area states "This organization has asked for the following access to your ORCID record:" and lists the requested access: "Add/update your research activities (works, affiliations, etc.)". Below this, there is a note: "If authorized, this organization will have access to your ORCID record, as outlined above and described in further detail in ORCID's privacy policy." and another note: "You can manage access permissions for this and other Trusted Organizations from within your list of trusted parties." At the bottom, there is a large blue button labeled "Authorize access" which is highlighted with an orange border.

Close the ORCID pop-up window.

7

Customize your ORCID-settings. We recommend selecting the first two options for automated transfer.

✓ Your ORCID® ID is connected.

You have authorized the University Library as a "Trusted Party" to access your ORCID record. By the way, you may revoke this permission any time at your ORCID record under [Account Settings] > [Trusted organizations]. We now can

- import publication data from your ORCID® record into university bibliography
- complete your ORCID® record by adding publications from university bibliography not already listed there.

The following ORCID® IDs are linked to your user account:

ORCID® Settings

You can decide individually in the bibliography for each of your publications whether they should be transferred to your ORCID® profile or not. In addition there are the following automated options:

- ☒ Publications are initially created in the ORCID® profile if this option is activated. Otherwise, the publications must be added manually.
- ☒ Publications are continuously updated after being created in the ORCID® profile and changes are made within the application if this option is enabled. Otherwise publications remain unchanged.
- ☐ Publications are created in the ORCID® profile if an identical publication from another application already exists when this option is enabled. Thus a duplicate is created. If the option is disabled, no duplicate will be created.
- ☐ Deleted publications are created again in the ORCID® profile after an update if they no longer exist if this option is activated. Otherwise, deleted publications will remain permanently removed.
